BRYAN ACHIEVES STATE APPROVAL

COMMENCEMENT WEEK SPEAKERS

Dr. Tucker

Baccalaureate

"The Making of a Man" was the sermon topic of Dr. H. Park Tucker, chaplain of the U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, Ga., on Sunday night, June 1, at the Bryan baccalaureate service held in the Rhea Central High School auditorium. Dr. Tucker's text was II Corinthians 5:17, "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things are passed away, behold, all things are become new." He referred also to a text taken from profane history, "No man ever stands so straight as he who stoops to help a boy."

Participating in the service were the Rev. Garland Franklin, director of the Scripture Memory Mountain Mission with headquarters in Emmalena Ky., and the Rev. Charles F. Brooks of Mason, Mich., who is associated with the Rural Bible Mission. Mr. Franklin has two sons, Dean and Richard, and Mr. Brooks a son, Ronald, who were members of the graduating class. Mr. Brooks gave the invocation and Mr. Franklin read the Scripture, Romans 12.

General Harrison

Commencement

Thirty-seven seniors received their diplomas at graduation exercises concluding Bryan's twenty-eighth year when Lieut. Gen. William K. Harrison (U. S. Army Retired) of Chicago challenged the graduates with an address entitled "Life's Values."

The Rev. C. R. Williamson, pastor of the Madison (Wis.) Bible Church, read the Scripture from the Epistle to the Hebrews (11:39-12:29) and the Rev. Charles F. Graydon, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church, Mayfield Heights, O., gave the invocation. Mr. Williamson's son Donald and Mr. Graydon's daughter Mary were members of the graduating class.

Special music for the occasion was furnished by the two musical ensembles which will be on tour this summer. Dr. Karl E. Keefer, Jr., dean of the college, presented the thirty-four candidates for the bachelor of arts degree and three for the bachelor of science degree. The Rev. Richard McIntosh of Lima, O., president of the Bryan Alumni Association, welcomed the graduates officially into

by Theodore C. Mercer

(This editorial, to my mind, conveys a most important bit of news having to do with Bryan's future development; consequently, I have asked the managing editor to give it space on the front page of this issue. —T.C.M.)

The Fact

(On May 8, 1958, the State Board of Education at its regular quarterly meeting in Nashville, Tenn., voted approval of Bryan University as a four-year institution for teacher preparation in Tennessee, effective with the 1958-59 school year. I was informed of the action of the State Board in a letter dated May 13 from Quill E. Cope, Chairman of the State Board. Attached to Mr. Cope's letter was a copy of the report of the visitation committee which inspected Bryan on April 28 and on the recommendation of which Bryan was approved. The receiving of this good news is a fitting climax to the academic year and we want to share it with our Newsette readers so that you can rejoice with us.

The Meaning of It

The immediate significance of this approval is that beginning with the class of 1959, Bryan graduates who fulfill Tennessee certification requirements will be certified directly by the state department of education on the same basis as the graduates of any other institution approved by the State Board for teacher preparation. This approval becomes retroactive for next year's graduates—that is, the first three years' work completed before the approval was granted also becomes acceptable. This is similarly true for the other two classes already enrolled.

In a wider circle it also means that Bryan graduates will be accepted in some other states for certification on the basis of the Tennessee approval. This reciprocity, however, will not apply in every state and it is not automatic. A student, of course, must meet the certification requirements (continued on page 4, col. 1)
IN MEMORIAM

by Judson A. Rudd

Founders

Two friends, recently honored as Founders of the University, died on the same day, April 16.

Miss Rose E. Moyer, generous contributor to the cause of Christian education, had been living at the Quarryville (Pa.) Presbyterian Home for a number of years. She would have been eighty-nine years of age had she lived until the 28th of April.

Mrs. R. Ruffin Beasley of New Bluff.

Mrs. F. R. Rogers, wife of a Dayton trustee, passed away unexpectedly in a Chattanooga hospital after an operation. Born May 5, 1900, in Glasgow, Scotland, Mrs. Rogers had endeared herself to many present and former students through friendly contacts at the University and in the Rogers' homes in Dayton and on Johnson's Bluff.

Even more recently word was received from the wife of another Founder, Mrs. R. Ruffin Beasley of New Orleans, that Mr. Beasley had died more than a year previously on March 2, 1957.

Former Trustee

The Rev. J. B. Thornton, a Bryan trustee from 1935 to 1952, went to be with the Lord on Monday, April 14, after a lingering illness at his home in Greenfield, Ill. Born in 1875, Brother Thornton had served for more than twenty years as a missionary and minister to missionaries in India, China, Korea, and Japan, and had a significant part in the great Shanghai Revival. His missionary interest continued while pastor of the Hope Congregational Church in St. Louis, Mo.,—1926 to 1951. Brother Thornton was a blessing to many students and teachers of the University during his many years as friend, trustee and member of the Advisory and Reference Board. His son, David Thornton x'34 attended Bryan during the pioneer days of the school. Charles Thornton, a grandson, graduated in 1953. Martha and Elsie x'56, sisters of Charles, were also students in recent years.

Mrs. Rogers

Shown above is Dr. J. J. Oppenheimer, dean emeritus of the college of arts and sciences of the University of Louisville (Ky.), who served as consultant for the General Education Workshop on May 1-3. With him are Dr. Mercer, left, and Dr. Keefer.

A study of Bryan's current practices in general education in the light of the practices of other institutions was the general purpose of a faculty workshop conducted on the campus May 1-3. Dr. J. J. Oppenheimer, dean emeritus of the liberal arts college of the University of Louisville (Ky.) and a widely recognized leader in general education, was consultant for the workshop. The securing of Dr. Oppenheimer was made possible by a grant from the Council for the Advancement of Small Colleges. One of the emphases of CASC is that of self-examination and self-evaluation among its member colleges.

The workshop began with two addresses in an all-college assembly—first, one by Dr. Mercer setting forth the background of the meeting, its purposes, and the aims set for achievement, followed by Dr. Oppenheimer’s address entitled “General Education in the Liberal Arts College.” In his remarks, Dr. Mercer set forth the definition of general education to be used in the workshop as “that sum total of educational experiences—bodies of knowledge, skills, attitudes, behavior—which we conceive should be the possession of every educated person regardless of his college major or his future vocational objective.” Dr. Oppenheimer’s address included a history of the liberal arts tradition and a listing of special problems confronting the American college today.

The three-day meeting included faculty reports, question-and-answer periods, discussion groups, informal social periods, a faculty-staff dinner in honor of the consultant, and a showing of the film “Endowing Our Future,” a Sears Roebuck Foundation presentation dealing with the problems of higher education today. One session was devoted to a description by the consultant of the successful program of general education at his institution. A feature of the meetings was student participation, including two special sessions of the student council with the consultant so that student viewpoints would be adequately represented in the work of the conference.

The workshop had its origin in the faculty self-study initiated last year and in the more recent faculty study of the general requirements as listed in the catalogue. This study resulted in the decision of the faculty to add courses in speech, philosophy, and general humanities but with the subsequent experience of finding it a practical impossibility to implement this action under the present course setup. For several weeks preceding the workshop meetings, the faculty had been engaged in an intensive reading program in the field of general education.

A specific outcome of the conference was the faculty action that a committee on objectives in general education be appointed to present a tentative set of objectives which when refined and adopted would serve as the basis for any curricular changes made. This committee will have a member from each of the three divisions of humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences. It is planned that this study will continue next year with a similar conference to be held in the fall or early winter.

Approval Gained
of the state of his choice.
In another area, this approval means that many Rhea County teachers will be able to take evening, Saturday, and summer classes at Bryan to improve their certification status and in many cases to earn their degrees. This opportunity to perform a service for our local area I consider to be one of the most important aspects of this approval. Already we have had a number of inquiries and by next fall a definite plan will be formulated by which we can serve the teachers of our area.

Certainly this approval by the State Board is a step in the right direction and very likely is far more significant than we are able to assess at this point. A well-established teacher education program with all that it will mean in respect to the total educational program of the college could well be a factor in eventual recognition by the Southern Association. The standards of the State Board, except in respect to specified endowment, are very similar to those of the Southern Association.

The Background
It should be made clear that this achievement has come about because of plans and activities dating back several years and representing the work of many people. Throughout most of its history Bryan has given education courses and many of its graduates have had some teaching experience (41% of those responding to the recent alumni survey, an impressive number especially in view of the fact that Bryan has not had an approved or even a complete program heretofore). The records show that discussion among the faculty and trustees concerning the proposed development of a full department of education was climaxed in 1953 by the action of the college Board of Trustees which established the official basis on which such a program could be developed. The alumni association registered its support of the plan adopting as its project for the year the raising of funds to employ an education teacher. This successful project led to the employment of a teacher in the field of education in 1954, with faculty additions and further departmental developments since that time. The establishment of a full-fledged approved program of teacher education was one of the announced objectives of the present administration in 1956 when I came to the presidency.

FROM THE FACULTY
Another Sign of Growth
by Mary L. Hammack, M.ED., Assistant Professor of Education (B.S., Oregon College of Education; M.Ed., University of Oregon; graduate study, University of Nottingham, England)

Editor's Note: Miss Hammack, who joined the faculty in 1955, will be away next year on leave of absence working toward her doctorate.

One sign of growth in professional education at Bryan University has been the birth and the growing enthusiasm of the campus chapter of the Student National Education Association. Last year it was our privilege to organize and sponsor what was officially named the "Mrs. E. B. Arnold Chapter of the Student National Education Association."

When first organized, our group was chartered as a branch of the Future Teachers of America, but this year our new charter indicates our "growth" into a full-fledged college organization, officially called "The Student National Education Association." Usually, such a privilege is granted only to fully accredited institutions. Thus, it is another sign of growth and gaining recognition, closer to full accreditation.

One of our senior members, Jo Ann Helwig, attended the national Education Association national convention in Philadelphia last July. On campus this year our group sponsored several programs to promote interest in the teaching profession, including the showing of three films. Special invitations were extended to our entire student body as well as the teachers in the local school system. These films were "Not By Chance," which demonstrated the special preparation necessary for teaching; "A Desk for Billie," which was requested because it had been shown by our group last year; and the new film "Satellites, Schools, and Survival," a report on vital problems and prospects of our public schools.

The attainment of this objective—the first really concrete achievement among the objectives of the present administration—is a suitable subject for Thanksgiving to God and a real encouragement to work for achievement of other objectives.

Purposes of SNEA
The purposes of the Student National Education Association are:
1. To develop among young people preparing to be teachers organizations which shall be an integral part of state and national education associations.
2. To acquaint teachers in training with the history, ethics, and program of the organized teaching profession.
3. To give teachers in training practical experience in working together in a democratic way on the problems of the profession and the community.
4. To interest the best young men and women in education as a career.
5. To encourage careful selection of persons admitted to schools which prepare teachers, with emphasis on both character and scholarship.
6. To seek, through the dissemination of information and through higher standards of preparation, to bring teacher supply and demand into a reasonable balance.

Included in membership privileges of SNEA, Mrs. E. B. Arnold Chapter, are subscriptions to two monthly professional magazines—the Tennessee Teacher and the National Education Association Journal. Articles appearing in these periodicals have stimulated discussion and report topics not only for our meetings but also for certain education classes. We believe our chapter of SNEA to be the only campus professional organization directly affiliated with a national organization. We may well add that the largest professional organization in the world is NEA. The future of Bryan's education department looks very bright and our affiliation with a professional organization gives our students prestige and affords a hopeful outlook for future professional appointments.

May the Lord continue to bless our education department here at Bryan and use our graduates as effectively as in the past. Indeed, the call of a Christian teacher is an high one.

Alumni News
by Rebecca Peck

Executive Alumni Secretary

Western Michigan
April 19 was reunion day for two Bryan alumni areas—Grand Rapids, Mich., and Winona Lake, Ind. This initial meeting for western Michigan alumni was held in the Calvary Brethren Church at Alto, where William Johnson, husband of Ruth Ella (Williams ’48), is pastor. The good attendance—including Carl ’56 and Grace (Coventry ’52) Benedum and Rogers ’57 and Ethel Mae (Davis ’57) Havird, missionary internship enrollees from the Detroit area—suggests that the event should be repeated in the near future. Other distance travelers were Virgil ’44 and Edwina (Lien ’54) Sorge from Whiting, Ind. Color slides from Bryan Hill helped revive college-day memories and portrayed recent developments at the school. On their visit to Bryan the following week with prospective students, Jim and Adrienne (Kerr) Reese, both ’56, and Dave and Shirley (Pitcher) Marsteller, both ’57, reported a profitable time of fellowship at the Michigan rally.

Winona Lake
About sixty attended the simultaneous meeting at Winona Lake. Music was furnished by three members of a former Gospel Messengers group—Jesse Deloe ’56, Alva Conner ’55, and Don Weltmer ’56. The missing member, Jim Reese, was attending the Michigan rally. Dr. Mercer, guest speaker for the evening, found a hearty response to his report of developments on the campus. Chapter president Charles Thornton ’53 presented to Dr. Mercer the chapter’s gift of one hundred dollars to buy advertising space at the Winona Lake cafeteria.

Chattanooga
As a special effort to contact Chattanooga area prospective students and friends for Bryan, the Tri-State Alumni Chapter—Clyde Simmons ’49, president—sponsored a musicale at the Westminster Presbyterian Church on May 3. Participants in the program were the two Gospel Messenger teams that toured during spring vacation and will be traveling for the school this summer.

Alumni Entertain Seniors
The Upper East Tennessee chapter volunteered its services to entertain the senior class on May 24. To enjoy some of East Tennessee’s grandeur, seniors and alumni boarded a chartered bus early in the morning and traveled to the Smokey Mountains. The day’s entertainment was concluded with a welcome to the seniors into the fellowship of the alumni association.

Summer Gatherings
July 12 is another double date for alumni, with meetings scheduled for northern Ohio and for Gull Lake Bible Conference in Michigan. Bryanites in western Michigan are making plans for a rally at Gull Lake with the main event being dinner in the Lake View Dining Room on Saturday night. A Gospel Messengers team will be on the conference program with special music on Saturday and Sunday. Reservations for the dinner or for overnight accommodations may be made with the conference director, Mr. Ben Gordon, P. O. Box 248, Kalamazoo, Mich.

Details for the northern Ohio meeting will be announced later.

Survey Results
A special note of thanks comes from the alumni office to the non-graduates and to the 315 graduates who returned forms in the recent alumni survey providing information concerning advanced education, occupation, teaching experience, etc. Forty-one per cent of those reporting have had some teaching experience, and of the 185 who have enrolled in some type of graduate school 72 per cent indicated. Alumni who have not returned the form are encouraged to do so, in order that the tabulation may be made more complete.

Leading the academic procession were flagbearers Earl Baker of Bradenton, Fla., and Frank Huston of Talcott, W. Va., president and vice president respectively of the class of ’61, carrying the new American and Christian flags recently given to the college by the Tri-State (Chattanooga area) Alumni chapter. The processional hymn, “God of our Fathers,” was led by the college choir with Prof. Gerald Woughter directing. The choir also sang Schubert’s “Psalm XXIII” and Mozart’s “Glorious Is Thy Name.” Mrs. Wilma S. Franz, instructor in music, was organist. Dr. Judson A. Rudd, president emeritus, gave the benediction and Dr. Theodore C. Mercer, president of the college, officiated.
